

strong laws make strong people. and stronger lawyers.
the people need protection from those who invest their time separating people from their funds.